

YRH: World Cotton Trends in Demand and Supply 2013 Market Overview, Size, Share, Analysis, Technology Developments, Development Status, Trends, Structure, Production Value and Forecast Research Report

Summary

The “World Cotton Fibre – Trends in Demand and Supply - 2013” from YarnsandFibers is the eighth consecutive compendium covering the trends in global demand and supply of natural and manmade fibre/filament industries. The report covers all major fibre producing countries accounting for 85% of global production and consumption. Time series on trends from 1990 to 2012 on capacity, production, imports, exports and apparent consumption is presented country-wise for 13 countries including all major Asian countries, USA and West Europe.

This Report captures the trends seen in 2012 across textile fibre/filament industry including natural fibres, including cotton, wool, silk and animal fibres. The analysis assesses the positions of fi-bres/filaments industry as events unfolded.

The Report is richly annotated with authoritative and unbiased objective description, and hard-to-find statistics. The report also provides unequivocal views on future potential based on prevailing climate in key regional markets and projections upto 2018 of capacity, availability and apparent consumption for all fibres.

The Report is divided into two sections: Fibre-wise View and Region/Country wise details. The first section covers World production of manmade and natural fibers for the period 1990 to 2012. This sec-tion covers time series on capacity, production, import, exports and apparent consumption of;
